Region:

Thracian Plain is part of the great southern Bulgarian wine region. It is well protected from cold winds to the north of the Balkan Mountains and further protected from the south central part of the Rhodopes.

Climate and Soil:

Temperate with sunshine duration over 3,000 hours during the year and over 110 clear days. Hot dry summers with warm nights. Soft and warm winters. No spring frost. Sandy and sandy-loam, clay-limestone.

Harvest:

Carefully selective hand-picking in crates with subsequent sorting of the grapes in the winery.

Vinification:

White grapes are processed by classical techniques involving cooling of grapes, sorting, selection, and direct pressing. Following clarification of musts and alcoholic fermentation at 12-14°C. Retention on sediment and stirring.

About the brand:

Tasting notes:

The color is light golden. Juicy tropical fruits and apple are dominating in the nose. The body is rounded and balanced with ripe fruits and flowers in the aftertaste. Juicy and attractive wine which can be matched with salads, antipasti, fish or chicken.
